Building Awards 2008

Consultant categories

Deadline for entries: Friday 14th December

Construction consultant/surveyor of the year

The construction consultant/surveyor category is open to all types of multi-disciplinary practices and any other type of construction consultant, including building or quantity surveyors.

Architectural practice of the year

The architectural practice award is open to all UK registered architectural firms. The judges will be looking for evidence of success during 2007.

Engineering consultancy of the year

The new engineering consultancy category is open to firms who offer a variety of services but from an engineering led base. All branches of engineering within the built environment are eligible to enter. The judges will be looking for evidence of success during 2007.

There are no company size restrictions for any of these categories.

Entrants must provide a statement of up to 1000 words and include pictures to illustrate highlighted projects or innovations. Entrants to all three categories must also fill in the table below and the entry form overleaf. Please provide this information on 5 pages of A4, the entry form and table below will not be counted in this 5 page limit. Please provide two copies of all entry material including this form and the entry form.

For each category the judges would like to see the following:

- 1. Why does your firm deserve to win this award in 2008?
- 2. Outline the projects and construction work that your firm has been involved in in the last 12 months and highlight any outstanding features of this work.
- 3. What systems do you have for measuring customer satisfaction? How do they work and how often are the satisfaction levels measured?
- 4. What is your firm's approach to sustainability?
- 5. What is your firm's approach to partnering?
- 6. What new innovations have you launched in the last year?
- 7. What is your firm's approach to health and safety policy and corporate social responsibility? Highlight any innovations or achievements in these areas over the last year.

Complete as many of the following as you can. You can base the figures on either the financial year or the calendar year. Make this clear by amending the dates at the top of the columns.
